St. John predicts that the republicaparty will not carry the states in 1888 and that it will then cease to exist, an that the prohibitionists will defeat the democrats in 1892. Please give us until 1900, kind Mr. St. John.

THE republican county papers say there was an immense gathering at the Carbon Cliff meeting the other night to hear Parson Morgan. The entire "forty" votes in the precinct must have turned out on that occasion, then. Wonder if Morgan claims more than twenty-one votes in Carbon Cliff now!

THE mugwamps are coming to the front John F. Andrews, the democratic nominee for governor in Massachusetts, was a republican until 1884, when he went for Grover Cleveland and reform. He found the democracy such a nice and pleasant party that he determined to stay with it as all good mugwumps should do. | murder. He is a son of John A. Andrews, the war governor of Masschusetts, and a young man of 35 to 40.

THE National Educator, a prominent educational journal published at Allentown, Pa., notices Prof. Oldt's candidacy for state superintendent of public instruction on the democratic ticket. It says of him:
